February 26th, 1753.

[NUMB. 976.]

LONDON, November 21.

SATURDAY at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Mr. Turner, one of his majeſty's meſſengers, arrived with an expreſs, that his majeſty landed at Graveſend about 2 o'clock.

As ſoon as the expreſs arrived, the princeſs dowager of Wales, the prince of Wales and the princeſs Auguſta, came in chairs from Leiceſter-houſe to St. James, and the reſt of the young princes in a coach, to wait the arrival of his majeſty, who came there in perfect health about 5 o'clock. The great tenderneſs and affection with which he received the princeſs-dowager and his grandchildren, was very affecting. After ſtaying about an hour, they returned to Leiceſter-houſe, amidſt the acclamations of the people, who teſtified their joy on his majeſty's happy arrival.

The ſame evening the archbiſhop of Canterbury, the lord chancellor, and the reſt of the lords of the regency, waited on his majeſty, and delivered up their commiſſion.

Nov. 23. Yeſterday the court of common council waited on his majeſty at St. James's with their addreſs upon his ſafe arrival in his Britiſh dominions, to which his majeſty returned a moſt gracious anſwer, and was pleaſed to confer the honour of knighthood upon the right hon. the lord-mayor, the recorder, the two ſheriffs, and the chamberlain of London; now the right hon. ſir Criſp Gaſcoyne, ſir Richard Adams, ſir Charles Aſgill, ſir Richard Glyn, and ſir Thomas Harriſon, knight; and all the reſt of the court had the honour to kiſs his majeſty's hand.

Dec. 2. We hear it is deſigned, that a new bridge ſhall be built from Fleet-Ditch to the oppoſite ſhore, and the ditch to be filled up, to make a ſpacious ſtreet; and that a lottery will be granted for it.

Dec. 5. We hear, that the earl of Cardigan is to be appointed governor to their royal highneſſes the prince of Wales and prince Edward; and the biſhop of Peterborough, preceptor.

Yeſterday his majeſty's proclamation was made, for the meeting of the parliament the 11th of next month.

Since the month of July laſt, 44 ſhips from the Baltic have ſailed for the ports of Spain, laden with naval ſtores, as appears by the liſts of veſſels that paſs through the ſound. And within the ſame ſpace of time, France has received about 200 veſſels from the ſame quarter, and freighted in like manner.

Dec. 7. Yeſterday there was a grand drawing-room at St. James's; after which a council was called, when, as we hear, the earl of Harcourt and the biſhop of Norwich deſired leave to reſign their reſpective charges, as governor and preceptor to his royal highneſs the prince of Wales and prince Edward. This was the 3d council ſummoned on this affair.

Col. Cornwallis, brother to the right hon. the lord Cornwallis, has declared himſelf a candidate for weſtminſter, in the room of Sir Peter Warren, deceaſed.

We hear that ſeveral wrecks have been obſerved on the coaſt of Shetland, ſo that it is apprehended many ſhips have deen loſt in the late hurricane that paſſed along the coaſts of Denmark and Sweden.
